

TSA Family Symposium

Location: MBI Auditorium at the University of Florida

Address: MBI Auditorium, 1149 Newell Drive, Gainesville, Florida 32611

Date: Friday, March 27, 2015

Time: 6:00pm-8:30pm

Free education for the family and those living with Tourette's Syndrome and other Tic Disorders. This program is designed to give a brief overview of Tourette's Syndrome, co-morbid conditions, behavioral therapy and Tourette Syndrome Association program benefits and community support. Come and meet expert physicians and staff members who are actively involved in Tourette Syndrome management.

Schedule of Events

Introduction to Tics and Tourette Syndrome

Presented by: Dr. Irene A. Malaty
6:00-6:30pm

Tourette Comorbid Conditions

Presented by: Dr. Irene A. Malaty
6:30-7:00pm

Behavioral Therapy for Tics-CBIT program

Presented by: Heather Simpson, Occupational Therapist
7:00-7:30pm

What can TSA Do for You & Other Resources

Presented by: Chris Brown
7:30-7:45pm

Question and Answer Session

Presented by: Panel
7:45-8:30pm

Resources

Tourette Syndrome Association Webpage

www.tsa-usa.org

UF Health CMDNR Webpage

Movementdisorders.ufhealth.org

UF Health Rehab and Center for Movement Disorders

UF Health Center for Movement Disorders are host to a TSA Center of Excellence. The University of Florida Health Center for Movement Disorders & Neurorestoration is founded on the philosophy that integrated, interdisciplinary care is the most effective approach for patients with movement disorders. The Center delivers motor, cognitive and behavioral diagnoses as well as various treatments all in one centralized location. Care is coordinated and provided by leading specialists from many advanced medical and surgical services. Majority of specialists live together in an avant-garde side by side arrangement.